

Opportunity Scholars

Program Coach

Opportunity Scholars (OS) works with high school students as they pursue career and technical programs, and community college and university pathways. OS assists families as they consider employment and training/education needs for their children. OS provides financial support to students during high school for dual enrollment, career and technical classes, and financing for students who choose to pursue post-secondary education in a local community college or university.

This position is located primarily in the Northern Virginia and the Winchester areas. The candidate must be able to speak and write Spanish fluently. The role requires establishing good working relationships with a variety of staff within public schools, community colleges and universities, and with students and families of limited means and varied cultural backgrounds. Ideal candidates will have a passion for helping young people access the education gateway to a successful quality of life.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Coordinate and interface with students and their families in the career planning and coaching process.
- Counsel students in setting a strategy and achieving the goal of obtaining a technical or professional degree leading to gainful employment earning a living wage.
- Counsel and maintain working relationships with community partners, public schools, community colleges and Universities to deliver services to students. This includes problem resolution, joint and strategic planning.
- Work with all OS staff to maintain high levels of work, sense of purpose, active respect and engagement.
- Build the identity and brand of OS with schools, donors, partner agencies and students/families.
- Administer education fund programs for students pursuing dual enrollment, community college and university training programs leading to degrees and certifications.
- Actively reach out to community contacts to recruit student referrals to the OS programs.
- Assist families with Education Funds/Income Sharing Agreements (ISAs) for students attending Shenandoah University for professional degrees.
- Work collaboratively with high school and college educators, administrators and staff to find the most efficient strategy for each student that will shorten the total amount of time and expense involved in obtaining degrees and/or certifications.
- Work with technical educators to integrate high school and community college training for students seeking technical credentials and certificates in trades programs.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Be fluent in Spanish.
- An associates or bachelor's degree desired
- Have experience working with students and parents.
- Have a passion for helping young people achieve good careers and a desire to serve others
